

Civic engagement and political participation, 2013

Released at 8:30 a.m. Eastern time in The Daily, Monday, September 14, 2015

---

The study "Civic engagement and political participation in Canada" is now available.

The study provides a variety of information on the civic engagement of Canadians, particularly their participation in groups, organizations and associations, and examines the most common types of groups and the frequency of individuals' participation.

The study also presents the most recent data on various types of political activities in which Canadians take part, such as participating in public meetings, signing petitions and voting.

Note to readers

A report that deals more specifically with the political participation and civic engagement of Canadian youth will be published on October 7.

Available in CANSIM: tables 118-0006 to 118-0008.

Definitions, data sources and methods: survey number 5024.

The article "Civic engagement and political participation in Canada," which is part of the publication Spotlight on Canadians: Results from the General Social Survey (89-652-X), is now available from the Browse by key resource module of our website under Publications.

For more information, or to enquire about the concepts, methods or data quality of this release, contact us (toll-free 1-800-263-1136; 514-283-8300; infostats@statcan.gc.ca) or Media Relations (613-951-4636; mediahotline@statcan.gc.ca).

