Construction Union Wage Rate Index, June to November, 2020

Released at 8:30 a.m. Eastern time in The Daily, Thursday, December 17, 2020

The Construction Union Wage Rate Index (2015=100) is now available from June to November 2020.

Note to readers

Starting in December 2019, the Construction Union Wage Rate Index is now released on a semi-annual basis: in June (for the December to May reference months) and in December (for the June to November reference months). This corresponds to the majority of updates to construction union wage rates.

Union wage rates are published for 17 trades in 25 metropolitan areas for both the basic rates and rates including selected supplementary payments. The indexes (2015=100) are calculated for the same metropolitan areas and are published for those where a majority of trades are covered by current collective agreements.

The wage rates and indexes are subject to a 30-month revision period. This is due to the length of time that can transpire between the expiration of a collective agreement and the ratification of a new collective agreement.

The wage rates and indexes are not seasonally adjusted.
