Pan-Canadian Education Indicators Program: Data tables

New data from the Pan-Canadian Education Indicators Program are now available.

This program draws from a wide variety of data sources to provide information on the school-age population; elementary, secondary and postsecondary education; transitions to the labour market; as well as labour market outcomes. This edition includes updated data tables about expenditures on education; high school graduation rates; teachers, the learning environment and the organization of schools; research and development; transitions to postsecondary education and the labour market; and labour market outcomes.

Note to readers

The Pan-Canadian Education Indicators Program is an ongoing initiative of the Canadian Education Statistics Council—a partnership between Statistics Canada and the Council of Ministers of Education, Canada—that provides a set of statistical measures on education systems in Canada.
