

Student worksheet 2: Canada Year Book page references

These are some references to help you get started. Look at the indexes and tables of contents for more data to advance your research. You will find it very useful to navigate around the website and become familiar with statistical data as you work through your challenge for this lesson. Look up and scan tables and other information that will support your article. Use the summaries associated with sets of statistics to help you to better understand the tables. Use the data for the war years and the years just prior to and after the wars for comparisons and analysis.
